

Treva Hadden – Biography

Treva Hadden was born in Oakland and spent most of her childhood between the family homes in Oakland and Hayward. Treva graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Florida International University (FIU). Treva is the proud parent of a child with special needs and a former Special Olympics volunteer basketball coach.

Treva has a background in public service having previously worked for both the Alameda County Sheriff's Office (ACSO) and the Oakland Police Department (OPD) in detention facilities with the inmate services unit, internal affairs division, and personnel assessment where she was tasked with identifying patterns and recommend training and/or disciplinary action plans. She currently serves in the role of investigator for the City of Oakland for the Public Ethics Commission.

Treva strongly believes that trust and transparency between law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve is essential for community stability, officer safety, and effective policing. She hopes to bring her knowledge of policies, procedures, and love of community engagement to the City of Antioch and this commission.
